(Both)

Look what we started again
What made us think we could only be friends
For awhile there it looked like the end
But look what we started again.

(George)

I could have sworn it was over
That there'd be no more you and me
But I guess we were made for each other
'Cause each other is all that we need.

(Both)

Just look what we started again
What made us think we could only be friends
For awhile there it looked like the end
But look what we started again.

(Tammy)

The flowers are back on the table
Our pictures are back on the wall
Our feelin's are stronger than ever
And this time were seein' them all.

(Both)

Look what we started again
What made us think we could only be friends
For awhile there it looked like the end
But look what we started again.

Look what we started again...
