I walked up to my door and hate to turn the key
Emptiness is all that waits inside for me
That's how it is when the one you love is gone
That's how it is when your house is not a home.

I look around and see things marked with "his" and
"hers"
Little things like this just make things that much worse
That's how it is since I live my life alone
That's how it is since my house is not a home.

--- Instrumental ---

Is there a way out for a soul so torn as mine
Each day I live I'm like a prisoner, passing time
That's how it is, ask anyone who lives alone
That's how it is when your house is not a home.

That's how it is when your house is not a home...
