For so long I have waited
While your heart hesitated
Now there's only one thing left to do
Your hearts so divided
That I finally decided
Gonna take me away from you.

Gonna take me away from you
So I can't see the things that you do
This may not make much sense
But in my hearts defense
Gonna take me away from you.

--- Instrumental ---

With every clrick of the track
My mind will go back
To the wonderful love we once knew
But it's all over now
I'll forget you somehow
When I take me away from you.

Gonna take me away from you
So I can't see the things that you do
This may not make much sense
But in my hearts defence
Gonna take me away from you.

--- Instrumental ---

Gonna take me away from you
So I can't see the things that you do
With a heart full of pain
I'll catch that old train
That'll take me away from you...
