The fear of losing you somehow yet in my mind, still lingers
Tomorrow will not seem so close to gettin' us today I'm holding on but I can feel you darlin' slippin' through my fingers
And it hurts to see your love for me just slowly slip away.

And the party going on as long as I can seem to find the reason
I'd crawl to you if it would do one bit of good at all I just sit and watch the screen wall that I built around you fall
Without a reason that's the hardest part of all.

--- Instrumental ---

If there was something I had done then I could say I'm sorry
And try to make things up to you somehow I'd find a way
But the only thing I'm guilty of is lovin' you so long now I can't stand to see your love for me just slowly slip away.

And the party going on as long as I can't seem to find
the reason
I'd crawl to you if it would do one bit of good at all
I just sit and watch the green wall that I built around you fall
Without a reason that's the hardest part of all.

Without a reason that's the hardest part of all...
