How could I be the one of all that you couldn't see this time
I must think that you're a fool, can't read between the lines I'll say one thing then I run to her and I think you don't suspect
But if you loved a liar, darlin', you'd hug my neck.

Lord, I drained you dry of all your faith each time yuor back was turned It seems with all the love you gave I've never seemed concerned
How could my broken promises gain back all your respect
For if you loved a liar, darlin', you'd hug my neck.

How could my broken promises gain back all your
respect
For if you loved a liar, darlin', you'd hug my neck...
