Here am I without your arms again
Oh, how many times have you walked out and walked back in
And I cried just like a baby, after you
Oh, oh, It's funny what a fool will do.

Is you love worth all these heartaches, I don't think so I still hold you and yet I know I need to let you go
Still my arms goes right on wanting you
Oh, It's funny what a fool will do.

--- Instrumental ---

Here am I with empty arms again
Counting all the times that you walked out and walked back in
Still I cried just like a baby, after you
Oh, oh, It's funny what a fool will do.

Is all your love worth all these heartaches, I don't think so
I still hold you and yet I need to let you go
Yes, I cried just like a baby, after you
Oh, It's funny what a fool will do.

Oh, oh, It's funny what a fool will do...
