(Alan Rhody - Bill Caswell)

Just when I learned how to dance they changed the music
Just when I learned how to sing they changed the song
Just when I learned how to love you changed your mind babe
Just when I thought I'd found everything my everything was gone.

Just when love felt so right I found I was wrong, babe
Just when I learned how to trust he came along
Suddenly nothing I said made any difference
Just when I thought I'd found everything my everything was gone.

(Spoken)

You know that ol' lonesome word, goodbye
It can sure make you cry
Oh, and a love I thought would last
Ah, it's just now a thing of the past.

(Sang)

Just when love felt so right I found I was wrong, babe
Just when I learned how to trust he came along
The suddenly nothing I said made any difference
Just when I thought I'd found everything my everything was gone.

Just when I thought I'd found everything my everything was gone...
