I'll never understand dear as long as I live
I guess I will always wonder why
You told me that you loved me straight from your heart
And then without a warning said goodbye.

Loving lies that I believed
And now how I grieve
You didn't mean them from the start
But you told me lovin' lies and broke my heart.

--- Instrumental ---

You say I'll soon forget you and find somebody new
But darling, oh, how wrong you are
I've only had one love dear, and it was for you
And from that love my heart will bear a scar.

Loving lies that I believed
And now how I grieve
You didn't mean them from the start
Yet you told me lovin' lies and broke my heart...
