"My Special Memory"

You were something special and I loved you
You left me and you hurt me and I still will do I can almost feel you touch me as I think about what used to be
Yes, you are still my special memory.

The kind of love that you gave me, it was a special kind
I could never find another you so I don't waste my time
I keep you locked up tight in my mind and no one can ever see
But you are still my special memory.

My special memory I know you will always be My special memory is holding on to me I'll be happy as long as you walk across my mind at least once a day
'Cause you are still my special memory...
