

George Jones

"Right In The Wrong Direction"

Visit "Right In The Wrong Direction" on MotoLyrics.com

It never crossed my mind that we'd end up like this tonight
We were sitting there exchangin' glances
It started with a smile, lights were low and we talked awhile
And a drink or two and a few slow dances
Now here we are caught up in this midnight romance
It might be wrong by mormin' light but tonight we'll take our chances

We're headed right in the wrong direction
But the wrong direction's sure feelin' right
We're headed right in the wrong direction
We're not holding back, we're holding on to love
tonight.

--- Instrumental ---

There stacking up the chairs, anticipation in the air
Where love leads tonight you and I will follow With no future and no past who knows if love will last For it's tonight that's on our mind and not tomorrow
Now here we are caught up in this midnight romance
It might be wrong by mormin' light but tonight we'll take
our chances

We're headed right in the wrong direction
But the wrong direction's sure feelin' right
We're headed right in the wrong direction
We're not holding back, we're holding on to love
tonight.

We're not holding back, we're holding on to love
tonight...

Visit George Jones page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.