Forgive me if I'm pessimistic today
But I seem to feel our love slipping away
I have no special reason for feeling this way
It must have been something I dreamed.

Darling hold me close and chase away the ghost that tortures me so
Kiss away my doubts until my poor heart shouts that you'll never go
This feeling's not your fault you're sweet as can be
I have faith in you I just like faith in me
I'm afraid that I'll lose you then worried I'll be be Please let it be something I dreamed.

Your words like conviction or do you suppose
That I love you too much and I listen too close
I know I'm too jealous and sometime it shows
So it must have been something I dreamed.

Darling hold me close and chase away the ghost that
tortures me so
Kiss away my doubts until my poor heart shouts that
you'll never go
This feeling's not your fault you're sweet as can be
I have faith in you I just like faith in me
I'm afraid that I'll lose you then worried I'll be be
Please let it be something I dreamed...
