Looking through this worn out book of pictures
Reliving all the love we once knew
Turning through the pages of my memory
And everywhere I look there's me and you

Whatever happened to us
Somehow through the years we lost touch
Lately I've been missing you so much
Whatever happened to us

I always thought we look so good together
How did we come to drift so far apart?
These pictures cry for answers to one question
Why did we break each other's hearts?

Whatever happened to us
Somehow through the years we lost touch
Lately I've been missing you so much
Whatever happened to us

Lately I've been missing you so much
Whatever happened to us
