Who's gonna be to blame when dreams are all in vain
And find out then that there's somebody new Who's gone away someday, they hadn't gone away
I bet you never thought it would be you
I bet you never thought it could be you.

--- Instrumental ---

You'll walk the floor and weep, you will tremble in your sleep
You'll sit and wonder what you're gonna do Who's gonna pray each night for the Lord to bring daylight
I bet you never thought it could be you you
I bet you never thought it would be you.

--- Instrumental ---

Who's gonna feel ashamed each time they hear my name
And be sorry that they broke a heart in two
I think you ought to know so I'll tell you before I go
I bet you never thought it would be you you
I bet you never thought it could be you...
