When I met him he was lonely from a love that went wrong
And I helped him to forget about the life he had known
And I gave him the courage to start over again Yes, it's funny how people change when true love steps
in

And when I met her she was looking for a thrill and good times
And when she found out someone who cared
It changed her ways and her mind And then I ask her to go with me, I didn't care where she'd been Ain't it funny how people change when true love steps
in

True love stepped in and I know it will last
If we live for tomorrow and forget about the past
For the first time in a long time we're happy again
Yes, it's funny how people change when true love steps
in
Yes, it's funny how people change when true love steps
in
