Amy was a girl on the side of the road,
And I picked her up and away we go,
And I'm leaving home without you I know,
And I don't give a damn quite where she goes,
Cause I'm leaving here for good you know,
And I told you that before

This time we'll try to change those things we learnt and grown to hate
About nine to five, five to nine
Simple times and the same old life and then
This time we'll re-arrange and we'll rip down all those picture fames of my life
This time we'll leave this town

Jenny was a girl at the side of the road,
I don't pick her up cause she's too damn old,
And she's staying home without you, I know,
And I don't give damn quite where she goes,
Cause I'm leaving here for good you know,
And I told you that before

This time we'll try to change those things we learnt and
grown to hate
About nine to five, five to nine
Simple times and the same old life and then
picture fames of my life
This time we'll leave this town

grown to hate
About nine to five, five to nine
Simple times and the same old life and then
This time we'll re-arrange and we'll rip down all those
picture fames of my life
This time we'll leave this town
