VERSE 1

It's a beautiful morning, to see the sun rise It's moments like this that make me wish I could freeze frame time
I got a hot cup of coffee, gonna watch the world come alive Surrounded by nature likens the innocence of a new born child

CHORUS

Sometimes we laugh, and sometimes we cry
Some days it's hard to figure out our way in this life
But it's moments like these that make me wish I could freeze frame time.

I got a picture in my pocket, of my baby boy He's growing up so fast I swear he thinks he can conquer the world
Just yesterday evening, he come running up to me
He said he made his momma mad and that she said he was just like me

CHORUS 2

And I laughed until I cried, all swallowed up with pride You should have seen the concern in that little boy's eyes
Yes it's moments like this that make me wish
I could freeze frame time

VERSE 3

You are and angel, you taught me how to fly You picked me up when I was down turned me around and you made me fly high We're a little bit older now, together we've seen some change
But I love you more now than I did on that very first day

CHORUS 3

Sometimes we laugh, and sometimes we cry
Some days it's hard to figure out our way in this life But's moments like this that make me wish

Yes it's moments like this that make me wish
Yes it's moments like this that make me wish
I could freeze frame time
