The candles burning out, it's almost gone
It's not gonna make it, until the dawn
Lying here, have I had enough
Of asking myself, would I give you up?
But I will always, wait right here for you
It's nothing new
I will always, wait right here for you
It's nothing new, it's what I do

The bottles gone, didn't take too long
One more drink, and I'd be gone
Laying here, in an empty room
Asking God, should I leave you soon?
But I will always, wait right here for you
It's nothing new
I will always, wait right here for you
It's nothing new, it's what I do

I will always wait right here for you, it's nothing new
I will always wait right here for you, that's what I do

That's what I do
I'll wait on you
It's nothing new
It's what I do
