Money won't fix it, power won't fix it
Sex won't fix it, drugs won't fix it
Fame won't fix it, lies won't fix it
Your life won't fix it, nobody can fix it

This sleeping sickness is a very strange disease
You can't wake up until you're brought down to your knees

Time won't heal you, medicine won't heal you
Potions won't heal you, your doctor can't heal you
Your husband can't heal you, your wife can't heal you
Your friends can't heal you, nobody can heal you

You realise that you've been living in a dream
You see reality and wake up with a scream (Aaaaah!)

Science won't save you, religion won't save you
Art won't save you, I can't save you

Got your desires and you do just what you please
This sleeping sickness is a very strange disease
You can't wake up until you're brought down to your
knees

Love can heal you, knowledge can heal you Understanding can heal you, faith can heal you
Service can heal you, humility can heal you Love can heal you, conscious love can heal you
