He says that he can read my mind, the power to turn iron into gold

She says she's seen the other side

And knows the place the fire burns all night

There is an answer to the question, so long ago down below

It's a hard real life, every day

Once you have it, it never goes away

Chorus:

It's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky

When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your imagination

It's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky

When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your

Your magic of the secret door, I can take you down and show you more

It's easy, once you know the way, it's farther than the closest thing

you are

You've got to walk right through that fire, it will not burn
you

And the once you may love, only life won't make it, or just burn away

You've got to walk right through that fire, it will not burn
you

And the once you may love, only life won't make it, or
just burn away

(Imagination) - repeats out
