It's a daydream that you've started A wasteland, pull yourself from the dream
There's a stigma, there's a market Better follow what the others repeat

So you get home and you write down All your plans for the life you wanna lead in Don't let them it's the right dream
'Cause the world is faster then it seems

You're taking the back seat give up on actions you gotta believe
Somebody asks you get a reaction you gotta believe
And you never gave that blank expression I just gotta believe
And you never saw the world before you I just wanna
believe.
I gotta believe

So you sit there in your freeze frame
And you wonder how you're gonna survive
And it hits you like a steel train
If you don't try life is not a life then

You're taking the back seat give up on actions you
gotta believe
Somebody asks you get a reaction you gotta believe
And you never gave that blank expression I just gotta
believe
And you never saw the world before you I just wanna
believe.
I gotta believe

Now I can see through your eyes [x4]

You're taking the back seat give up on actions you
gotta believe
Somebody asks you get a reaction you gotta believe
And you never gave that blank expression I just gotta
believe
And you never saw the world before you I just wanna

I gotta believe
