wrong way on a one way,
street lights luminate this night.
When we're here side by side,
Each moment breathes new life.
So get right, all that you like.
Cause I know we share more than smiles,
And all this down-time gives us reason to confide
Everything I can fit onto one line.

Watch the sun set over wasted time
Wish upon a California sky
I think you know this time
I'm through with wasted time
And it may take one last night
What goes around comes back again in time.

Should I whisper our secret
It ain't hard to see your heart would know.
Its never easy to forget mistakes and afford some room to grow.
In a heartbeat, on the heels of each soft word to break the quiet.
I remember a season I forgot...and it fills me up with fire.
I'll never fear the night, never fear the night with you.
