Overcoming obstacles
To show what were worth
That sad knife struck closer
To home than i thought
Seeking acceptance from you
Is too much to ask
My glance will topple you down

This pocket full of empty lies
Picture all that we despise
Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend

Stepping over yesterday
When things were okay
There's no excuse for you
To say the things you did
But the story's changed
The ending has a twist
And a broken home is all i have to show
This pocket full of empty lies
Picture all that we despise
Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend

Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend

This pocket full of empty lies
Picture all that we despise
Stripped and polished for you my friend
Stripped and polished for you my friend
