

Getaways And Goodbyes

"One Less Chapter To Remember"

Visit "One Less Chapter To Remember" on MotoLyrics.com

The summer came, the sun revealed the truth
The lies were told, she said it wasn't you
You called her bluff, telling her it was fate
The cards were turned, no more need to wait

My December told me of this day
Knew all this time, it wouldn't go my way
Allowing all of this time to pass
Was hurting us both, knowing it wouldn't last
I thought it would work, our journey into love
The stars foretold this, shining from above
Adding salt to the wound, seeing that pretty face
These past two years, both of them a waste

Surrounding me, these drinks and all this smoke

My heart is jumping, always trying to choke
All those people who persisted to kill my dreams
But this soul can say, not all is as it seems

My December told me of this day
Knew all this time, it wouldn't go my way
Allowing all of this time to pass
Was hurting us both, knowing it wouldn't last
I thought it would work, our journey into love
The stars foretold this, shining from above
Adding salt to the wound, seeing that pretty face
These past two years, both of them a waste

I just can't let this feeling go
I miss you terribly so

Visit Getaways And Goodbyes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.