

Geva Alon

"And Once Again"

Visit "And Once Again" on MotoLyrics.com

And once again we are in jeopardy

Our crimes are aging just like you and me

For love is more than a dream
And I believe in walls of mystery

That block The Sun from everyone

When I'll wake up you'll be gone

And all that will be left is in my hands

To write a memory of love that's dead

It echoes from a distance and fades away

And you and me we go in separate ways

Wish I could change all that has been done

The time when you were the one

This is today when I can't see a thing

But what it is for the time being

And how it feels in my hands
But when it walks away I feel free

Freer than a bird above the open sea

Those words keep taking over our freedom years

Visit Geva Alon page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.