A gentle breeze brings down all the leaves that bear my name
If you stay there'll be hell to pay That's good advice

Oh don't you waste your time on me
I'll just fall apart

I always break like each single wave that reaches shore
I sit and wait and they overtake coz all that I lead is a lie
And you can't keep telling me off Oh don't you waste you time on me
I'll just fall apart at the seams I'm already frayed and oh I'm not all there anymore
Your colours won't fade if you take care

So go on without me, forget how to care, forget how to love me You're almost there...

Oh don't you waste your time on me
I'll just fall apart
