I've been looking for an answer in the sky
Can you hear me? 'Cos I need a reason why
I think I'm in trouble with my heart out on my sleeve
So I'm calling 'cos I need her as I live and breathe
Don't let the sun go down 'cos tomorrow she'll be gone

Give me one more day and I'll make her stay
Hold back the night
If you're really there and you hear my prayer
Hold back the night
Hold back the night, oh the night

Every minute, it gets closer to goodbye
Can't you give me oh just a few more hours to change her mind
Don't let tomorrow in 'cos I just can't face it alone

Give me one more day and I'll make her stay
Hold back the night
If you're really there and you hear my prayer
Hold back the night

I watch the light fading to black
I'm counting on you to build me a bridge so I can bring her back
Don't let the sun go down 'cos tomorrow she will be gone

Give me one more day and I'll make her stay
Hold back the night
If you're really there and you hear my prayer
Hold back the night

One more day, make her stay
Hold back the night
If you're really there and you hear my prayer
Hold back the night
