Lying in the shade of the half light, buzzin' in the back of my head

I'm lookin' at you, I can't believe just how good it gets There's a cold wind rushin' through the window, can't even touch your heat

Soul to soul, no control, breathin' in your heartbeat

And only passionate fools are looking for spiritual bruises

You're on the way to stone and now as I lie here with you

I can't get close enough no matter what I do
I'm never close enough, I need more and more of you
Close enough, well I think I'm losing my mind
I'm deep inside your love but I still ain't close enough
Ohh, close enough

I can hear the angels' voices tryin' to whisper my name Out of the dark and into the light, mission of these shames
I don't wanna wait another lifetime 'til this one happens again
What you've done is taken me from the prison that I live in

You're all I ever need, I live in the light of your flame
This fire's consuming me here as I call out your name

I can't get close enough no matter what I do
I'm never close enough, I need more and more of you
Close enough, well I think I'm losing my mind
I'm deep inside your love but I still ain't close enough
Ohh, close enough

And only passionate fools are looking for spiritual
bruises
You're on the way to stone and now as I lie here with
you

I can't get close enough no matter what I do
I'm never close enough, I want more and more of you

Close enough, well I think I'm losing my mind
I'm deep inside your love but I still ain't close enough
Ohh, ohh, ohh, ohh
