Visualise

How it used to be

The morning sun over an open sea

Sanctify

With nothing to fear

It was a virgin world that only our hearts could hear

You and I

Shared the same dream

Our minds were one made up of two extremes

But in the wind

We could not bend

Now it's a long road to love and we've got to start again

If we take it day by day

We can break the barricades

Back to the promise land

Back to the place where our love first began

Night by night

Holding on with all our might

Back to the promise land

(Back to the promise land)

Feel the ice

Break underfoot

Sacrifice till love is an open book

Oh hold me now

Let it begin

Let the sun shine down and light up this love again

If we take it day by day

We can break the barricades

Back to the promise land

Back to the place where our love first began

Night by night

Holding on with all our might

Back to the promise land

Sweet resurrection of a love so long denied

We can find it, never hide it, if we reach the distant sky

(Instrumental)

If we take it day by day
We can break the barricades
Back to the promise land
Back to the place where our love first began
Night by night
Holding on with all our might
Back to the promise land
Back to the promise land
