Angel in the sunlight, devil after midnight
Heartbeats inspiring, dark eyes inviting
When the morning comes you light the air like a flame
And the early rain can only cool the fever in my brain, in my brain
Lady, when you're smiling, baby when you're crying
Loving sweet and tender, romance to remember

When you're close to me or far away
I long for you every night and day
My heart is beating wild tic tac... Tic tac...
Beating wild tic tac... tic tac... Deep inside, like dynamite, dynamite.

Angel in the sunlight, devil after midnight
Heartbeats inspiring, dark eyes inviting
When the sun goes down you turn me on just the same
And the evening breeze can only cool the fever in my brain

When you're close to me or far away
I long for you every night and day
My heart is beating wild tic tac... Tic tac...
Beating wild tic tac... tic tac... Deep inside, like
dynamite, dynamite.
