WHOSE WORLD IS IT (ANYWAY)?

(performed live for Earth '90 telecast on June 2, 1990)

performed by: Debbie Gibson

written by: Deborah Gibson

Verse 1:

There's a very good reason

Why there's not just

One person in this world

We gotta do what we can

Oh, there's a reason

Now there must be a plan

If we want to make it work

Word of mouth

Hand in hand

Chorus:

Whose world is it anyway?

Who do we think is gonna make it right?

Whose world is it anyway?

Who are we hurting?

After all, it's our fight.

Verse 2:

There's a time for laying low

There's a time for sticking your neck out

On the line

I think now's our time

'Cause there's a real real problem

What are we without the air we breath?

No one should have to be without

CHORUS

After all, it's our life.

We've gotta make it stop

But it begins with just one drop

We will do it, in just one day

But if we never stop

The earth will crumble

Fall apart

And the children will be left

In a helpless land

Who's gonna make it right?

Who's gonna make it right?

We've gotta make it right

Or no one else will.

There's a reason

Now there's gotta be a time

Gotta stick your neck out

On the line
