Welcome everybody to our humble abode,
Like four to all in thrall let's get this show on the road,
So turn down your lights, and turn up your speaker, Everybody dance around cause we're all social creatures,
But knock knock, who is it,
We're being paid a visit from notable nobles with visions,
Of white picket fences, foreign cars and platinum
expenses,
Bangin on the door with a list of our offenses,
Well you can knock 3 times on the ceiling if you wanna,
Or put 4 kicks on the floor but I'll be honest,
We aint turnin down till the sun comes up,
The sound gets sucked, your pipes and ducts,
So rise and shine, hear the party line
Keep it on till the dawn and watch the night decline,
The band becomes a crowd, the crowd becomes a rally,
The people fill the streets, and the streets into the alley

It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We came to rock, rock the decibels, rock rock the
decibels

J Guevara move the people like it aint no thing,
From the duke of Earl, to the sultan of swing,
I get loyalty like I was royalty,
All your plots and schemes have been foiled, see
I got lines and quotes, the rhymes I wrote,
Should be printed in Bartlett's, and now its time to start this

But first all the heartless must show some compassion,
Barriers need breaking, walls need some smashing,
Like Navritalova, they dove then rolled over,
Now we got the floor and its milk like corova,
Does your body good, and your mind even better,
From the crew that blew the panties off your auntie when we met her

It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We came to rock, rock the decibels, rock rock the
decibels

Attention this court is in session, repeat the last question,
Repeat the last question, the one before, which one,
Who got the diction to blow up like nuclear fission, we do
In addition, we're on a mission, we circulate like a petition,
Convert you like religion, to our opposition, in our position,
To submission, so focus your vision if you're wishin for a clearer transmission

Pledge allegiance to your leaders, dream received divas,
Devastated feet between us,
We bring your legions into freedom,
Render unto Caesar what is Caesar's,
The leading seat from theaters
In a stereo receivers spread like baba ganush,
Direct from the electorate this aint no putsch, We're ?????? sequins from the feds as we move the people's party like Eugene V. Debs

It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,

We break you out of your shell,
We came to rock, rock the decibels
It aint loud enough for all of us,
We came to rock, rock the decibels, rock rock the
decibels
