"Mr. Tomorrow"

You draw a deep breath in but it comes out a sigh Always worried about some other someone's how or why
You let the morning in but then it slipped away
Are you gonna lose another moment? Not today

Mr. Tomorrow not today, Mr. Tomorrow anyway
No need to borrow from tomorrow with today

You catch a subtle breeze but stop to fix your hair
Always worried that someone will notice that you care
You take a step for free but turn around and pay
Are you gonna walk right past the present? Not today

Mr. Tomorrow not today, Mr. Tomorrow anyway

No need to borrow from tomorrow when today is the day

As your feet are on the ground
Your heart's in the air, you're spinning all around Everything has light and space
Everyone has time and place

Just let the evening in before it fades away
Are you gonna waste another moment? Not today

Mr. Tomorrow not today, Mr. Tomorrow anyway
Mr. Tomorrow not today
No need to borrow from tomorrow or the past triumphs and sorrow
Look around Mr. Tomorrow at today
