I can't stop thinking how my future is going to be
For this particular reason if there will be someone for me
There's no explanation why friends in life come and go
My deep emotion - I don't want them to show

But I don't think that's the only way
There must be much more to say

Chorus:

Going my way - I don't need to justify Doing what I want - no alibis
Living my life in the way I want it to be
The way I want it

I turn the pages of a book that has just begun
In this story called life - the search goes on and on Living for the moment - will I be the one to know

Looking for the answers - searching high and low

But I don't think that's the only way
There must be much more to say

Chorus

There must be much more to say

Chorus (repeat)
