me giving up on you it's a hard thing to do but i have no choice

i don't know what to say to you i don't know why you think i do all i know is i feel this deeper than you you belong where you belong i belong where everything goes wrong at least, everything i do so turn the lights off on the girl with the broken face her pencil heart has been erased she's standing on a lonely stage and if you're nice you can throw a secondhand smile her way

just please don't lie to her she's had enough today

cause it's easy to remember when her hands are in your hair that she always plays favorites and she never plays fair and it's easy to forget when she is laughing ooh cause she never laughs at anyone they way she laughs at you

three cheers for the lonely girl she eats her cake alone eightteen candles and her dreams, six feet under ground girlfriend used to give a shit but now she's just so scared of it and that's it, nothing profound

and it you're nice you can throw a secondhand smile
her way

just please don't look too long she's gullable that way so where does she stand? at the front lines with a rock in her hand on the blacktop with her build like a man's in the drama with your blood on her hands cause it's easy to believe that all her fantasies are real when you're eating up her looks like they were your last meal and it's easy convince you that my feelings are pretend so eat cake if you like and get frosted again eat cake if you like and get frosted again

and turn the lights off on the girl with the broken face her pencil heart has been erased
she's had enough today
