There's nothing in the world that I'd like more
Than to be left standing outside your door
Where perhaps I might be asked to come in

There I could very easily demonstrate
What now appears to be my fate
You see I'm hooked on something
And it's not heroin

Oh, I just can't get enough of you
No, I can't get enough, what am I gonna do?
I've tried every trick in the book that's going
Now I've decided that they're not worth knowing

My predicament is as simple as this
I'm not satisfied and the reason is
I just can't get enough of you

My experience of life so far
Has been to say the least not the least bizarre
I mean I work for a living, eight hours a day

I don't smoke or drink except for a little wine
The friends that I have are the genuine kind
I think I'm fairly rational in a moderate way

Yet I can't get enough of you
No, I can't get enough, what am I gonna do?
I've had other woman but they don't move me
You're the only one that can see right through me

What you've got I can't explain
Other than to tell you I have one complaint
I just can't get enough of you

I just can't get enough of you
No, I can't get enough, what am I gonna do?
Like Oliver Twist said when he asked for more
I happen to like what you gave me before

My condition is rather unique
I'm suffering from the world's first lovely disease

I just can't get enough of you

No, I can't get enough of you

I just can't get enough of you
