There's nothing in the world that I'd like more Than to be left standing outside your door, Where perhaps I might be asked to come in There I could very easily demonstrate Of what now appears to be my fate, You see I'm hooked on something And it's not heroin, Oh I just can't get enough of you, No, I can't get enough what am I gonna do, I've tried every trick in the book that's going, Now I've decided that they're not worth knowing, My predicament is as simple as this, I'm not satisfied and the reason is I just can't get enough of you My experience of life so far, Has been to say the least, not the least bizarre, I mean I work for a living, eight hours a day, I don't smoke or drink, except a little wine, The friends that I have are the genuine kind, I think I'm fairly rational, in a moderate way, Yet I can't get enough of you, No, I can't get enough, what am I gonna do, I've had other women but they don't move me, You're the only one who can see right through me, What you've got I can't explain, Other than to tell I wouldn't complain, I just can't get enough of you, No I can't get enough of you, I just can't get enough, what am I gonna do, Like Oliver Twist said when he asked for more, I happen to like what you gave me before, My condition is rather unique, I'm suffering from the world's first lovely disease I just can't get enough of you, No I can't get enough of you, Can't get enough of you
