Now you may not be the world's most beautiful, glittering glamorous star But you're all in the world that I'll ever need And I love you just as you are. Now Sophie Loren and yourself have in common Really nothing whatsoever so far But then who needs biggies when with a pair like Twiggy's I love you just as you are. When you do away, even for a day I would like it to be known That I wish that you could stay Now the day we got married You'll remember I carried you over the threshold of Mooney's bar where in between every round You fell flat out on the ground Still I love you just as you are Not to mention Mick and your brother vic Who I hear have settled here down after two years in the nick Take it away Semprini When you do away, even for a day I would like it to be known That I wish that you could stay So you may not be the world's most beautiful, glittering glamorous star BBBbut

you're all in the world that I'll ever need And I love you just as you Love you just as you are I love you just as you are
