Miss my love today
As I miss the stars that shine above
Telling me one day my love
Will come to me again

Miss my love I'd say
Is the only thing that I can do
I just can't live with someone new
Reminding me of her

She said before she left
That she would return to me
Although it may take quite a
While I know
That she'll come back
And once again the time
To fall in love will still be mine
Till then I'll wait in morbid company

Miss my love I do
Just as one would miss both day
And night
Waiting here alone is not right
But what else can I do?
