"Wave Bye Bye"

Can you take a lot of pain and make a little game of the hell that you find All the space you never gave for a secret never safe Get it out of your mind

The past beyond my sight Ahead in blinding light that reflects in your eye
The choices that you make All the memories and mistakes
I only think about it sometimes

(Chorus)
This is the last time I'll ever say
I love you
This is the last night
I fall among these graves
The first and last time that I'll cry and walk beneath a dark lonely sky and wave bye-bye
Bye bye

I could take the bitter cold and wrap around your soul In the light of your lie
All the things we'll never be
They were right in front of me
I can ever deny

A piece you never sold
You only feel a little cold and slightly undone
The harder part of facing doubt standing up and climbing out the deepest hole you've ever dug

(chorus)
This is the last time I'll ever say
I love you

lonely sky and wave bye-bye
Bye bye

and grown so tired to want and never grow In delusion of control the hardest part is getting old

(chorus)
