What
And give somebody all of my time
That word, we'd never really cross that line
My fault, I wonder why you never heard
It's my fault, probably I never should
All the time I've known you
And maybe I shoulda told you what
All the time I've known you
And maybe I shoulda told you what
What
And give somebody all my time
That thought it never really crossed my mind
My fault
I wonder if you're counting sheep
Yet if at all
Probably you're asleep
All the time I've known you
And maybe I should have told you what
All the time I've known you

And maybe I should have told you what
All the time I've known you
And maybe I should have told you what
What
And give somebody all of my time
That thought it never really crossed my mind
My fault
I wonder why you're never hurt
And if at all
Probably I never should have
And all the time I've known you
Maybe I should have told you
What...
