I been a full blown sinner, I been a liar's son
I been a losers winner, I've only just begun
I used to live for fire, come quick out of my mouth
'Til I got some holy water and slowly put it out
Chased a few dragons, knocked closed some doors
Now you don't see me chasing any dragons anymore

I get up every morning and this is what I do
I thank the Lord above me, for helping get me through
I walked so many valleys, alone in the dark
'Til I got some company and put 'em in my heart
Chased a few dragons, knocked closed some doors
You don't see me chasing any dragons anymore

Deep inside that valley, I almost lost my will
The wind blows so heavy and I was standing still
I used to live for fire, come quick out of my mouth
'Til I got some holy water and slowly put it out
Chased a few dragons, knocked closed some doors
Now you don't see me chasing any dragons anymore
