Is this the end of everything?
I'm not knowing where I'm going
Or even if I'm on the right track
A child in adult shoes without any luck
Watching, time pass me by Waiting, till it's just too late
Wishing, for what I want
Three words all mistakes

So many times before
I've wished, I've watched, I've waited
So many times before
I've wished, I've watched, I've wasted
So much success in their lives
And I'll I see in myself
Is someone that I always never wanted to be Regret from the mistakes I made
The one I never learned from
Is why I'm here today
The worst mistake that I ever made

So sing a song a lullaby to fall asleep safe just one more night
So sing a song a lullaby to fall asleep safe again
another night
I'm hoping this night never ends
I'm hoping for a change in who I am

And my time is slowly slipping
AWAY FROM ME
And my time is slow slipping
AWAY FROM ME now
Now what's left do
When so many people
Pass me by in my life
And I'm still standing
On a starting line
To afraid to start a race
That will last me all my life

So sing a song a lullaby to fall asleep safe just one

more night
So sing a song a lullaby to fall asleep safe again
another night
I'm hoping this night never ends
I'm hoping in a change in who I am

And I know I have to let go
And just forget about all the regrets
The only I will Move on with my life
Like sand running through my hands
I've learnt to let it all go
LET IT GO
I've learnt to let it all go
Farewell failure
I'm never looking back now
I start a new life today
I left the failure in yesterday
