LOOK

You have taken the heart of me
And left just a part of me
And look, look, look what you've done Well you took all the best of me so come get the rest of me
And look back finish what you begun
Be done

There someone you ought to meet, it's me mister incomplete
Look back what I've become For it's due to the lack of you
That I'm now only half of two Look, I say back , finish what you begun
Oooohhh be done

Some and sit by my side where there's nothing to hide
And we try and decide what you needed
But from where I stand today I can't think of a way Know the words that I might say that would change mind and make you stay Oh' No not for all the times I've pleaded

Look, look, look, look, look what you've done
You have taken the best of me so come get the rest of
me
And look back finish what you've begun
And be done
Ohh be done
