

Girl In A Coma "In The Background"

You stood there in the background while everybody tried to make their way towards an image of rush yet you wait in line till your turn to say you are all that I know lovely Saturday show you stood there in the background sulking in your drink until you see that Saturday nights don't seem, so dull when your cheersing for dreams yeah there's another day when the sun will shine and all will be for you there's another day when your enemies will taste their sour words and you..

you scream alone and your fist will moan you have been waiting for so long you cry alone and your wrist will moan you have waited for this all night long but oh stay with us for a while when you'll see all that you do hang with us for a while when you'll see all we do you stood there in the background waiting for the Saturday night cheers alone
