Road to home feeling the nerves in your stomach as you are about to sing mother's smiling as you cry and then she says "oh you live a dream"
striking the faces the pictures you say "oh I remember" but then I don't cause I smile the smile a thousand times over
pick it up the memory remains pick it up the Polaroids of shame

you want to see the world don't you yeah you want to be the world don't you. you want to be one of us you want to see the world yeah you want to be one of us and smile at the girls
oh you ...don't regret a thing because it was fun at the time smile at all the remarks you made you wish you could just leave behind
