I had enough with myself when you entered the scene
And i am so hopeless and you are a dream
It was wrong but good.it was you, oh yeah
I would pay for your love if i had the cash
The timing was lousy for making a mess
But that's me, oh yeah, and you are just sweet
I was fine alone was all feeling right
I met you again and later that night
You stole my heart and ran away
I have thought of you more than i'd like to admit
But i have my reasons, my doubts and my shit
But that's me, oh yeah, and i think too much
I was fine alone was all feeling right
Then i met you again and later that night
You stole my heart and ran away
You stole my heart, you stole my heart, you stole my heart and ran away (x4)
I was fine alone was all feeling right
I met you again and later that night
I was fine alone was all feeling right
I met you again and later that night
You stole my heart and ran away
The end of my ropes(x4)
