Be my, be my baby

Yesterday, I was watching the turning tide, of a memories of a changing shore line Otherwise, was nevermore. Life was different , you closed the door

Still in all my heart is true, there's no forgetting you, what can I do?

Girl, don't you feel the things you've done to me
Took my broken heart and set it free, oh, girl.

Memories, change with every passing day, change with every word you stay Lost in love without a trace, find myself, in a different place

Listen girl, I still believe, you'll find a way, come back to me

Girl, don't you feel the things you've done to me
Took my broken heart and set it free, oh, girl.

Now the flame is burning, but the fire is gone This love that's haunting me, but I still push on You touched controls, and they're moving me
And I can't break away, no.

Solo

Today, I sat and watched the setting sun, sit and think of only love,
A distance shore, a far away, restless heart so hard to tame

Listen girl, I still believe, you'll find you're way, come back to me

Girl, don't you feel the things you've done to me
Took my broken heart and set it free, oh, girl.
Girl, don't you close your eyes and walk away

Let me down and just fade away, oh, girl.
Don't you feel those things you do, don't you feel those things you do to me, Oh, yeah, I said girl, girl, yeah
What you've done, don't you feel those feelings there Don't you feel those things that you do to me, what you do to me, I said ah, girl
