There is more to love
So much more
Than simply making love
That's easy

Gazing into eyes
Pretty eyes
Which could be any eyes
That's crazy

Hands are just hands
A face is just a face
They come and go
They're easy to replace

There is more to love
So much more
Than moon-struck escapades
That's nothing

There is peace of mind
So much peace
In quiet company
That's something

Everyone but him
Seems wrong for me
Every time I feel
There has to be more

If I could hear
The music I heard then
I'd never let
It fade away again

Now each time
Love reaches out to me
I can only feel
There has to be

So much more
To love

There is more to love
So much more
