Pummeled tidal waves displeasure my saturated dream
Reality a shadow in a mirror crimson silhouettes of me
Tighten the noose oxygen negotiates my mind
True vanity stronger flawless standing
On my soapbox screaming obscenities
I came for something more
Silence your preaching of morals abuse insecurities
Black portals of dissolution shatters all reality Recycled loneliness distrust consume friendships I fabricate
I died for every soul in existence but its you

I hate
Bloodwine strike 9 defied by my
Push the beatings towards me for me scorn
Me empty hearts will follow me till I see There's no pain wipe it away you're the Prety crush you sentence you pummel you
And soon avenge my face
It's forever, so remember
Forgiveness, I forgive no one.
Drenched with passion, clearly seeing back when Inferior was superior.
