Burn

Silence, mesmerize, minds twist and blur my

Eyes

Control is not something that I possess

So tell whose turn I lied, I lied, I lied

Again disgusted grunt thought inside my head

Who would never try to tread, disease is called

Knowledge inside I'm dead burn.

I can defy.

Revolting repulsive shocking the notion

That I can defy the waves in the ocean.

Close your eyes confide, see what's in your eyes

Round again walk inside my friend, kick me down now,

Straight through my head, relive the pain

That digests my brain...

Come on I've gone insane

Are we dead? this cannot be, learn to live life without me,

We have learned prophets can see

Everything in spite of me... burn

I know that you know... so don't follow me.

My divine prolong your death, you will burn
